

McLean Project for the Arts

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Media Contact: Nancy Sautter / Deb Breen
(202) 498-5234 / nsautter@mpaart.org
(703) 218-1181 / dbreen@mpaart.org

MPA Announces Thursday, April 11 Opening Exhibition Reception for *Taking Territory: New Works by Susan Goldman, Barbara Kerne, Eve Stockton and Patricia Underwood

Show catwalks with printmaking exhibitors at DC's Katzen Center and an International Print Exchange Programme (IPEP) event in Washington, DC

McLean, VA: McLean Project for the Arts (MPA) will open Taking Territory: New Works by Susan Goldman, Barbara Kerne, Eve Stockton and Patricia Underwood with a free Opening Exhibition Reception on Thursday, April 11, 2019 from 7-9pm at MPAA@CatoBridge (3446 Chain Bridge Road, McLean).

These four DC-area printmaking artists will come together in Taking Territory to show works that explore many of the myriad techniques available to artists working in printmaking today. Using the media as a way into personal expression and conceptual concerns, each also draws on their vast knowledge and experience, as artists and as human beings, stretching boundaries and entering new personal territory.

"A reverence for nature in its infinite forms is a common theme between them, as well as the universal meanings and manifestations of form," said MPA Exhibitions Director Nancy Sautter. "The relationship between humanity and the natural world is also examined, as each artist walks the line between formal abstraction and reference."

Susan J. Goldman contributes works to the Taking Territory exhibit from her Squaring the Flower series. Bold and strong, these vibrant images are inspired by the ancient Greek idea of "squaring the circle" as an expression of balance and beauty. An artist, master